This is a survey article. It is highly appreciable that you wrote this in such a challenging war situation. Your effort is remarkable, especially considering your initial research career.

As you are writing survey kind of articles, it is better to give some inputs from your side in addition to all the technical details that are already there, like pros and cons of methods. Include other languages as well; including Russian will help more to stop propaganda. This can be enhanced as fake news/propaganda detection as well, which you tried to address.
