The article is very interesting and pertinent. It shows how the present financial system is largely controlled and manipulated by the elites in society and how it is often used as a tool to enrich the wealthy and subject the poor to the dictates of those in charge of the monetary system. It also shows how ordinary people often bear the brunt of ill-conceived and ill-planned policies.

The article highlights the despair and desperation of citizens, but this could have been more effective if it demonstrated different examples of how citizens responded to the crisis. The grammar and structure of the article can also be improved.
