Data

Franz Plochberger

Data are generally stored Information. The medium for it is called Storage Medium. The form of Data can be texts, pictures, graphics, sounds or any material forms. Together with the term Information it´s most important in our Age of Information.