

Review of: "Covid-19 vaccine uptake and its associated factors among rural households in The Gambia: a community-based cross-sectional study"

Jomell Santiago<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Nueva Ecija University of Science and Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The topic of this study was fascinating and timely.

For the abstract, it is recommended to reduce or only include those essential details and, if possible, limit it to 200 to 300 words.

For the introduction, since the topic is about COVID-19 vaccine uptake and its associated factors among rural households, it should be the main topic, or more sentences should be assigned to discuss it.

For the methodology, recheck the statements or discussions in each part and make them simple. Also, add additional discussion about the data analysis (especially in encoding data and in using different statistical tools to analyze the raw data obtained).

For the results and discussion, in Table 1, improve it by making the presentation of the data as simple as possible. Also, for the discussion part, improve the way of discussing the results obtained and add more supporting statements in each result (or table/figure) as much as possible.

The conclusion is comprehensive, and there are enough references cited in the paper.

Overall, the paper is great and can be further improved. Thank you.