Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Provide more concrete examples and case studies to illustrate the application of PsPP in different contexts. Real-world examples would help readers better understand how the concept plays out in practice and its implications for individuals, communities, and societies.

Discuss potential limitations and boundary conditions of the PsPP framework. Acknowledging situations where the concept may not fully apply or has diminished explanatory power would enhance the nuance and robustness of the theory.

Expand the discussion on cross-cultural variations in the manifestation of PsPP. Delving deeper into how cultural factors like individualism vs. collectivism, power distance, and attitudes toward wealth shape the perception of economic standing and associated psychological outcomes would strengthen the article's contribution to the field.

Suggest specific avenues for future empirical research to test the PsPP framework and refine its measurement. Outlining research questions, hypotheses, and methodological approaches would provide a roadmap for scholars interested in advancing the concept.

Discuss potential ethical considerations and unintended consequences that may arise from the application of PsPP in interventions and policy development. Acknowledging potential pitfalls and proposing safeguards would enhance the article's practical relevance and responsible application of the concept.

Clarify and expand on the mathematical formulas presented for quantifying PsPP within local and global ecosystems. Providing more detailed explanations and examples of how to operationalize the equations would make the framework more accessible and applicable for researchers and practitioners.

Use more recent references to support the theoretical foundations and empirical evidence presented in the article. While the existing references provide a solid conceptual basis, incorporating more up-to-date sources would strengthen the article's relevance and alignment with the current state of the field.
