

Review of: "Phytochemical Analysis and Antioxidant Activity of Extracts from Berchemia zeyheri — A Swazi Medicinal Plant"

Abdennacer Boulila

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Unfortunately, the manuscript is not well presented, presents many scientific gaps, and needs a professional language revision. Regarding these remarks, I think it should be rejected.

To evaluate the antioxidant activity, at least 3 in vitro assays should be done.

The chemical characterization, at least that of the most active extract, should be done via chromatographic techniques.