

Review of: "Life of Indigenous Communities During the COVID-19 Pandemic"

Makoto Niwa<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Ritsumeikan University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The theme, effect of the pandemic on the life of indigenous people, is very interesting.

To make the manuscript persuasive, do present primary information obtained in the study, such as qualitative or quantitative outcomes of the interviews, for example, how life has been changed by the pandemic.

I also recommend comparing outcomes and existing theory for the purpose of theory development, for example, how poverty affected responses to the pandemic.