

Review of: "Mapping Welfare and Development Schemes to SDGs at the Village Level in India"

Sammy Changwony Letema¹

¹ Kenyatta University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper has improved in terms of flow, and there is some attempt to address review comments. However, the paper still needs the following:

- Extensive language editing
- Introduce section 3 on Methodology, which makes results and discussion section 4 and conclusion section 5
- The table on page 7/32 should be table 1, which changes the numbering of subsequent tables
- Section 3.1 should be Socioeconomic Characteristics or Profile of the study area
- Merge tables 2 & 3 to make them more concise and eliminate repetition and redundancy
- The conclusion section has some subheadings in bold, which are not conclusions per se. Therefore, contextualize within conclusion or policy impact/recommendation