

Review of: "Effects of Cinnamon on Cancer Prevention and Progression"

Maha Ahmad¹

¹ University of Detroit Mercy

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The review is good, but it is lacking the specific types of cancers. It is very important when you are referring to a study to state whether this is breast or bladder cancer, for example. It is also extremely important to state whether this is an in vitro or in vivo study, or what cell lines they have used in each study. However, it is a good study.