The article has the potential to present the adaptations adopted by the indigenous population during the COVID-19 pandemic. Given the above, I suggest: presenting the general objective at the end of the introduction; in the methodology, adding that the sample selection was for convenience and the items from the questionnaire or interview script; the theoretical framework could address the economic actions adopted during a pandemic. The conclusion addressed the economic strategies adopted during the COVID-19 pandemic by the indigenous peoples who participated in the study.

Can you specify which economic actions during the pandemic should be included in the theoretical framework? 1. whether the local government offered financial subsidies to indigenous peoples. Could you provide examples of the types of questions or items that should be added to the methodology section? 1. social and demographic characteristics; sex; age; family income before, during, and after the Covid-19 pandemic.
