

Review of: "Analysis of Factors Influencing Health and Safety Programmes in Selected Electricity Distribution Companies"

Subbiah Ajith

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The abstract is very generic, and innovativeness of the research is missing.
2. A flow chart in the methodology gives a concise structure of the research.
3. Many researchers have concluded the results with similar calculations.
4. Advanced techniques may be used for decision making.
5. The effectiveness of the identified results shall be applied to the case study/specific industry.
6. Quantitative analysis can enhance the research results.
7. The results may not be useful to the stakeholders.