Research intention is meaningful. However, a thorough revision is needed.

Exploratory factor analysis needs to be performed to confirm the suitability of the questionnaire.

Revise the draft to avoid vocab errors. Consider writing T-test consistently; avoid writing "student t-test."

Align the references in the reference list with APA-7 reference style.

The first line of the abstract and discussion is similar. Needs rephrasing.

The discussion section should be rewritten. Discuss the findings in a unique and critical way, suggesting how they contribute to the existing literature.
