Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Abstract - Since this is a paper review based on literature, it was well written. It can be further improved if the author includes the method of analyzing the literature review, such as Systematic Literature Review (SLR), etc. It is also suggested that the author clearly write about the future research work.
2. Introduction - Overall, it covers the main areas that are required by the topic, Human Intelligence Diversity. The citations are within a 10-year period of time and are available in the references section.
3. Method - It is more about the planning for the future work. It is alright. However, perhaps the author could include the step-by-step research method. The sampling and population of potential respondents need to be addressed clearly. Need to include the planning for the pilot test, normality test, and software to be used for data analysis.
4. Data analysis - Will be done once completing and finalizing the research method. Needs to follow the data collection and analysis accordingly.
5. Bibliography - Need to ensure compliance with the format given by the publisher. Please also be consistent. Volume, page numbers, and issue need to be included if the reference is from a journal.

With minor corrections, this paper can proceed to the next level/process.
