

Review of: "The Effects of Polypropylene Wastes on the Compressive Strength of Grade 25 Concrete"

Wan Inn Goh¹

¹ Universiti Tun Hussein Onn Malaysia

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Paper is informative and worth being published as a technical paper or conference paper. If it wants to be published as a journal article, more tests should be included. References of this paper can be updated to within the previous 5 years, and the results of compressive strength can be listed in a table with a comparison of the increment or decrement of strength in value and %. The conclusion should be elaborated more significantly.